Dear George:

I note on page 10 of the attached transcript of your remarks that at the conclusion of the speech in Williamsburg at the CBS Affiliates Convention the person doing the transcribing noted "Tumultuous Applause." On page 16, at the conclusion of the question-and-answer period there is the notation "Great Prolonged Applause."

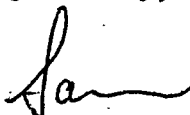

I think those notations indicate better than anything else how appreciative your audience was of your appearance and of your remarks. Those of us with CBS are so grateful to you -- you truly provided the highlight of what turned out to be a most successful Convention.

We are also deeply grateful to you for honoring us with your presence on such short notice.

George, I am enclosing the transcript of your remarks in Williamsburg to ask if you will edit them as you see fit, as we would like to publish for distribution to our affiliates and selected community leaders your remarks, Arthur Taylor's remarks, Dick Salant's remarks, Charlie Kuralt's speech, etc. If this meets with your approval and if you'll be kind enough to do the editing job, we'll take it from there. We have had many, many requests for copies of your talk.

It was very nice seeing you and Mrs. Bush again and, again, our very deep thanks.

Cordially,

The Honorable George Bush
Director
Central Intelligence Agency

Mr. Andrew Falkiewicz
Special Assistant to the Director
Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Mr. Falkiewicz:

A subsidiary company of ours, American Heritage Publishing Company, which publishes AMERICAN HERITAGE, is planning to run an article by Thomas Braden on the founding of the CIA in the magazine's February 1977 issue. We believe that responsible articles on the CIA are of interest and value to our readers and would like to publish additional ones. However, we recognize that this is a sensitive subject and therefore we would like to work in concert with the Agency on any future articles.

With this in mind, I asked George Bush's brother, John, a personal friend of mine, whether he would enquire as to the feasibility of my request. He replied, presumably after discussing the issue with his brother, that if there was anything to be done I should approach you on this matter.

To demonstrate the quality of AMERICAN HERITAGE, I am enclosing a recent issue for your benefit. I am also enclosing a copy of our current catalogue which further demonstrates the scope of our products.

If this subject is of interest to you, Alvin Josephy, Editor of AMERICAN HERITAGE, and I would be happy to meet with you at your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Pat AffoSamuel B. Reed

Dear Director Bush:

Many thanks for the wonderful hospitality extended by the CIA to the Young Presidents Washington Conference. Your personal presentation did much to give our attendees a far deeper understanding of the mission, complexity, candor and competence of your Agency. In addition, the men who joined you on the program added still further to these points while demonstrating an enormous knowledge and perspective in their areas of expertise.

Enclosed is a copy of the final program. The conference was exceedingly successful and your enormous contribution is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

A. Barry Merkin

Mr. George Bush

Dear Mr. Bush:

Our warmest thanks and appreciation for your excellent contribution to our Young Presidents' Organization Conference last weekend in Washington.

Having heard not only your positive comments, but also the penetrating analysis on China and the USSR, I and the rest of the group realize that our visit with you was far too brief.

Many of us are in business in many parts of the world and I would have been fascinated to hear more. (My company for example is the the management education business in nearly 20 foreign countries now).

As Education Chairman for the Conference, my job was made immeasurably easier because of your support and cooperation. YPO in general, and I specifically, have received unanimously positive comments on every part of our program. You made this happen. We were merely the catalysts.

Hopefully, the many significant thoughts, observations and years of experience you and the other resources put forth will be used productively. And, more importantly, that we, working together, helped to motivate 300 men and women of influence into taking some positive action themselves towards a better America.

We thank you!

Sincerely,

Anthony E. Whyte
